Banking and eStatements, and the account is active and in good standing. Offer is void if referred person already has an existing GICU checking account, one was open within the last 6 months, or they live in the same household as referring member.

Referred member must mention they were referred at account opening. Once the new account meets the qualifications listed above, $50 will be directly deposited to both the referring and referred members' GICU checking account – no exceptions. If the new account does not meet the qualifications within 60 days, the bonus will not be paid. No limit to number of referrals and rewards. GICU reserves the right to terminate the referral program at any time.
